Enough for Mexican Ser-

Did at Inspection Last Night, He Continues—New Recruits Sought to Supplant the Many "Dead Ones."

"If Company D is called to Mexico, I am going to leave half of you at home. I can take two companies out of Connelville, and they will be well drilled, too."

Thus spoke Captain A. R. Kidd of Company D, following the inspection last night. Forty-eight of the minimum strength of 53 were present for the inspection and their showing caused Captain Kidd to make some caustic remarks.

"It is not the same company that drilled for Major Farnsworth," observed Colonel Richard Coulter after the inspection.

Major J. N. McNary of Connelville was the inspecting officer and he held the company for over an hour. The band and hospital corps were inspected first, and while the arms and equipment of the rifle were being inspected the band played. Platoon work, company drill and guard work composed the maneuvers gone through for the benefit of the inspecting officer.

In the party were Major J. N. McNary, Colonel Richard Coulter, Jr., Major Henry W. Coulter, Major L. P. McCormick, Captain Wade Kilne of Company I, and Lieutenant R. S. McKee. Colonel Coulter announced that the band and hospital corps were inspected last night, and that the company was to be inspected on July 6. He has ordered all the company commanders to give orders to have the men prepared.

In regard to the non-appearance of members of the company for inspection, Captain A. R. Kidd said this morning that a general cleanup would follow and that many of the non-attendance would be dropped from the roll. This morning the captain started an advertising campaign for recruits.

Major J. N. McNary this afternoon for Somerset where he will inspect Company C this evening. Sergeant John R. Robinson of Company D who is accompanying the major around the department circuit, will conduct the property inspection at Somerset this afternoon.

"ENDLESS CHAIN" LETTERS
PLACED UNDER BAN BY P. O.*Postmaster Kurtz Makes That All Such Letters Will Be Refused.

"Endless chain" letters have been placed under the ban by Postmaster A. E. Kurtz. During the past few months numerous letters have been extracted from the mails by the local department and sent to the Post Office.

The latest letter to come under the ban of the office here is one in the form of a Lord's Prayer. At the end of the letter is the statement that unless the person receiving the letter does not mail the same thing in a certain number of other people he will meet misfortune.

Post cards with miles or landscapes on them will also be lifted from the mails. This announcement has been made many times and in spite of the fact many are received daily at the office. The only way in which these cards can be sent are enclosed in envelopes.

Referendum on Scale.

Coal miners throughout Western Pennsylvania will remain idle until Monday, April 22, rounding out a three weeks' suspension in accordance with the decision reached yesterday at the convention of District No. 5. This decision does not await the result of the international referendum vote to be tabulated April 25.

CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATES
FILE EXPENSE ACCOUNTS*New Law Is Effective and Ambitious Statesmen Get Under the Wire Quickly.

The new law requiring campaign expenses to be made public before election is now in effect. Yesterday was the last day for filing statements in Washington and many Pennsylvania names are in the list.

In this district Charles P. Hood states he has expended $2,000. His opponent, Col. Thomas S. Crage, reports the expenditure of $400. Woods N. Carr, the only Democrat in the running, files a statement that he has expended nothing.

The law which was approved by the President August 19, 1911, puts a limit of $5,000 upon the amount they may expend to secure their nomination, and it requires that not earlier than 15 nor more than 10 days before the primaries or conventions at which candidates are to be chosen, each candidate must file with the Clerk of the House an itemized statement of the amount he has expended. Failure to comply with this provision is punishable by a fine of not more than $1,000 or a year's imprisonment.

William C. Freeman, candidate in the Lebanon-Dauphin-Cumberland district, has the largest expense account to date, $2,000. The next largest is that of E. P. Douglas, John Dabell's opponent, who certifies he has spent $2,325.55.

Cecil was appointed and the treasurer of every organization of the church was instructed to submit their report to the auditing committee, who after completing their work will report to the congregation. Rev. J. L. Prouty presided over the election and during the remainder of the session the officers were elected.

OFFICIALS INSPECT GARBAGE FURNACE*Borough Officers Pay Visit to New Plant in Connelville
Township.*PROCESS EXPLAINED IN DETAIL*W. K. Herbert and Manager Francis
Instruct Visitors in Art of Burning
Refuse and Destroy Wagon Load
While They Wait—Well Pleased.

The formal inspection of the new plant of the Connelville Garbage & Fertilizer Company was held yesterday afternoon and despite the biting air which swept across the country, those making the trip did not hurry their departure until the entire performance, arranged for their benefit, had been completed. Nearly a score of officials was present, including Burgess J. L. Evans, President of Council James B. Millard, Councilmen W. A. Bishop, W. P. Clark, S. P. Hay and S. E. Brant; President R. S. McKee and Dr. L. P. McCormick of the Board of Health; Borough Solicitor P. D. Munson, Health Officer Allen Hyatt and three members of the company, J. H. Guyan, A. A. Straub and Henry Helzel.

The officials were conveyed in carriages to the plant in Connelville township yesterday afternoon. Both W. K. Herbert, inventor of the furnace, and General Manager James Francis showed the visitors over the plant and explained the process from the time garbage is dumped in the holes at the top of the furnace until it comes out of the big stack, an odorless gas. The special inventions lately patented by Mr. Herbert were explained in detail. They are the drying chamber, the checker bars and the sprayer. All of these ideas he has embodied in his plant here as well as the one in McKeesport.

The furnace itself is housed in a frame structure close to the road. The place is built so that the obnoxious gas can pass alongside the furnace. There the stuff is dumped into holes at the top. The garbage drops into the drying chamber. There, as it becomes thoroughly dry, it drops into the checker bars and the sprayer. At present coal is being used but after the furnace gets working right but little fuel will be needed, the garbage making its own fuel.

The fumes are thrown against the checker bars. These bars are made of fire brick and heated to a high degree. Here the fumes are destroyed, being decomposed as they encounter the great heat. From here they pass into the smoke stack. As an added precaution Mr. Herbert's spraying apparatus has been installed. If fumes should pass the checker bars without being destroyed the spray at the smokestack will eliminate them. At present the sprayer is not being used, owing to the effectiveness of the checker bars and the isolation of the furnace. In McKeesport the incinerator is located on a block with 17 houses and not a word of complaint has been made.

The entire furnace is made of brick with iron doors. Inventor Herbert said that if the whole incinerator were made of iron the degree of heat that could be attained would be much greater. Yesterday afternoon, the heat was low, being 500 degrees Fahrenheit. When the plant gets a good start an average heat of 1,500 degrees Fahrenheit will be maintained. A maximum of 2,500 degrees can be made.

A door 30 inches high and four feet wide has been for dead horses and other animals. It is stated that a horse can be cremated in half an hour.

The early visitors left before a wagon load of garbage came out from the city but the late afternoon and the process demonstrated by actual test.

PRESIDENT TAFT
HITS AT SPOILS*Would Place Many More Offices in the Classified
Service.*SEEKS SAVING OF MILLIONS*Second Message to Congress, Delivered at 10:15 Afternoon, Urges That Postmasters of First and Second Class Come Under Civil Service.

United Press Telegram.

WASHINGTON, April 4.—Abolition of the patronage system of appointees as first and second class postmasters in the Pension, Land Office, Internal Revenue and Customs Service, and transfer of such political jobs to the Classified Civil list of the Government, was the sweeping recommendation urged on Congress today by President Taft in a "second chapter" message on economy and efficiency.

In the interest of an efficient and economical administration of the vast business of the Government, the President summed up, "I urge the necessity for the inauguration of this important reform, and recommend that the necessary amendments be made to the laws governing appointments such amendments to take effect not later than July 1, 1912, so that there may be secured to the people the benefits to be derived from a conduct of their affairs by officers selected on a merit basis, and devoting their time and talents solely to the duties of their offices."

"In my opinion," such of the foregoing recommendations if acted on, will contribute largely to increased efficiency. Directly and indirectly the changes proposed will result in the saving of many millions of dollars.

"This will leave Congress free to determine whether the amount thus saved shall be utilized to reduce taxation, or to provide funds with which to extend activities already carried on, and to enter on beneficial projects which otherwise could not be undertaken for lack of funds."

In the Postoffice Department, the President declared that investigation of the economy commission indicated that in many cases the postmasters were paid for doing the work of one. "As the annual operating expenses of the first and second class offices aggregate the enormous sum of more than $60,000,000," the message said, "undoubtedly if the postmasters of these offices were embraced in the classified service and required to devote all their time to the public service, the annual would amount to saving of $4,500,000."

A further saving, the message declared, would be effected by abolition of assistant postmasters. An annual saving of nearly $82,000 would be made Mr. Taft asserted, if pension agents were put in the civil service list.

More efficient work would be coupled with the economical administration, he said, if the post of receiver and land offices be abolished and the register given those duties in addition to his own, and, in the classified list, "large expenditures are made for salaries of political appointees in the internal revenue and customs service," the message continued. "In both a direct saving in salaries and an indirect economy through increased efficiency would follow a transfer of such offices to the classified service."

United Press Telegram.

HICKMAN, Ky., April 4.—"For God's sake ask Congress to appropriate five thousand dollars in cash."

This was the telegram sent to Congressmen Ollie James of Kentucky today by Mayor James H. Hickman. The situation was acute here today and nearly one thousand homeless persons are facing starvation.

The city officials were astounded yesterday when receiving 200 army tents shipped by the government. It was found there was $320 express charges due on them. To pay the bill the city had to borrow money from a local bank. Hickman is under from five to ten feet of water. The people have fled back to the hills are suffering intensely. All left their money and valuables behind. Railroad communication is all but cut off. Food supplies are running low and the river is still rising. The levee has not broken a second time, but the situation is threatening.

TENNESSEE LEVEE BREAKS;
50 MILE AREA INUNDATED.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 4.—The main levee on the Tennessee side of the Mississippi below Hickman broke last night and the country about 50 foot below is now a vast sea. The area is completely flooded. The Weather Bureau officials announce today. No report has been received as to the loss of life or property damage.

This break will flood an area of 50 square miles and may slightly relieve the pressure on the St. Francis levee system on the west side of the river, as well as the Mississippi delta levees.

P. R. R. ISSUES APPEAL AGAINST STRIKE VOTE*Company Says It Cannot Afford to Increase Employees' Wages.

NEW YORK, April 4.—The Pennsylvania railroad issued last night an appeal to employees, stockholders and the public explaining its position in refusing the demands of the locomotive engineers for an increase in wages. The strike ballot that has been distributed among the engineers' claims, but not offer any proof, the statement says, that the railroad should be able to meet the advance.

"The engineers must realize that the wages of the new states are constant. Their treatment by the company in the past has been fair and the statement by its officers that the increase demanded cannot be met without a reduction of dividends or curtailment of improvements should convince them that it is unwise to press the demands and that they should vote accordingly."

Statistics are presented in the appeal alleging to show how the public has benefited since 1899 by the "reduced cost to the public" for hauling passengers and freight on the Pennsylvania and by many improvements, "precluding no revenue," expenditures for which, it is stated, must be continued. Meanwhile, the statement adds, passenger earnings per mile have decreased, taxes have increased and wages have increased both actually and in proportion to every dollar earned by the railroad. Based on all operations the increase would wipe out the company's surplus, it is asserted.

CLARKSBURG AGAIN AFTER LATE B. & O. TRAIN*Want Passenger Service That Will Get Travelers Into Pittsburgh
In Morning.

The Clarksburg Board of Trade is especially interested in a movement to connect the new bridge between Clarksburg and Pittsburgh through Morgantown and Connelville. The Clarksburgers want a service that will enable a person in Clarksburg to take a sleeper there and get awake for breakfast in Pittsburgh. They want a train from Pittsburgh to Clarksburg that will give the same sort of service.

The Clarksburg Board of Trade has asked the co-operation of the Morgantown Board of Trade and will, of course, get it. A night service between the Morgantown section and Pittsburgh would be valuable to both communities, and a source of comfort and convenience to travelers.

This movement would greatly benefit the Uniontown travelers of the Baltimore & Ohio.

BOROUGH HAD PROPERTY

Site When Another Was Purchased.

That the new borough of South Connelville already owned a lot suitable for a borough building, a new site was purchased some weeks ago is the statement of a man well informed regarding affairs in the little town. South Connelville possesses a triangular strip of land, at the corner of Elmwood and West streets, with a frontage of 30 feet and depth of 60 feet the long way.

This strip of land became public property through the change of a street line. It is at the intersection of the Tuguey and Connelville Extension Company's plans. The site, it is declared, is even more desirable for a public building than the one purchased by the Socialist Council, which did not know it already owned property.

FROM HIGH TRESTLE*Albert E. Williams Killed in Serious Accident on
O. & B. Branch.*WAS RIDING HOME FROM WORK*Big Steel Coke Truck Jumps Track
While Crossing High Bridge and Pulls Others With It—Passenger Traffic on Pennsylvania Delayed.

Albert E. Williams, aged 25, an employee of the National Glass Brick plant at Trotter, was instantly killed last night when a coke car on the O. & B. branch of the Baltimore & Ohio jumped the track and crashed head on against a passenger car. The accident occurred on the O. & B. branch of the Baltimore & Ohio, some fifty feet below the main line. The train was pulled with it. Before falling from the trestle they were dragged some distance, destroying the ties and twisting the rails from their position. One car fell on the creek bank, another fell on the Pennsylvania tracks and the third fell on the storage tracks below. The train was extra No. 1755, in charge of Engineer Shupe and Conductor Walter Walker with coke from Leeburn.

Engineer Francis Sullivan was on one of the cars crossing the bridge at the time of the mishap. He felt a jarring motion and knew something was wrong. Starting towards the rear of the long train he noticed the big steel hopper car of alignment. Suddenly it gave a heave and plunged over the trestle. The train broke in two and air brakes set immediately. Sullivan had, in the meantime, made his way towards the front of the train and was clear of the bridge when the car went over.

Sullivan says he did not see Williams on the train, but after the first car had gone over, saw a man fall and strike upon the upturned bottom of the car. The other two cars fell with a crash, but the emergency air held the rest of the train and prevented a more serious accident. Truck-walker James Trump also witnessed the accident, being working in that vicinity.

The wreck occurred at 5:30 o'clock. Williams, who is employed at the National Glass Brick Company, lived at South Connelville and was riding home from work. Traffic on the Pennsylvania was tied up last night for several hours. Wreck crews were sent out from the Baltimore & Ohio yards here and another came from the Pennsylvania yards at Youngwood. Both crews worked hard and had the track clear by 3:30. Passengers on Pennsylvania train arriving in Connelville at 6:35 from Fairbance were transferred to trolley cars and brought here.

The victim of the accident was aged 25 years and the son of Ben E. Williams of South Connelville. The family originally came from Wales and have been living at South Connelville for some time. The survivors are Thomas J. Williams, his brother and Mrs. Drew Williams, Mrs. Wm. Thomas and Misses Ann M. and Elsie A. Williams, his sisters.

The body was removed to the parlors of Funeral Director J. E. Sims and prepared for burial. Later it was taken to the home of the mother of the deceased in South Connelville. Funeral from his late home in Pittsburgh street, tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. Rev. B. Frank White, pastor of the United Presbyterian church will officiate. Interment in Hill Grove cemetery.

He stated that the only action he had taken relative to the proposed site was to suggest to some Councilmen that if possible it would be better for Council to find some other site than that immediately in front of the new Federal building.

KILL THE DANDRUFF GERMS

There is only one way to cure dandruff, and that is to kill the dandruff germs.

There is only one hair preparation on the market to-day that is guaranteed, absolutely guaranteed, to kill the pernicious and persistent dandruff germs, or money back, and that preparation is

Parisian Sage

But Parisian Sage is more than a dandruff cure. It makes the hair grow thick and luxuriant. It stops falling hair, and almost immediately stops itching scalp.

It is the favorite hair dressing of the beautiful women of America, because it makes the hair soft, silky and luxuriant, and is not sticky or greasy. Parisian Sage is not a dye. It contains nothing injurious to the hair, but is a scientific combination of ingredients that are hair nourishers.

"I had a terrible itching of the scalp, and my hair fell out, as it naturally would when one is 70 years old. Parisian Sage cured the scalp irritation, and gave a lustre and new life to my hair, and caused it to grow in, as so pleased with Parisian Sage, that I hereby recommend its use."—Mrs. Helen M. Beadle, Three Rivers, Mich.

Since its introduction into America, Parisian Sage has had an immense sale, and here are the reasons: It is safe and harmless; it cures dandruff in two weeks, by killing the dandruff germs; it stops falling hair; it promptly stops itching of the scalp; it makes the hair soft, glossy and luxuriant; it gives life and beauty to the hair; it is not sticky or greasy, it is the daintiest perfumed hair tonic made. Look for the girl with the Auburn hair on every package.

You take no risk in buying Parisian Sage because it is guaranteed by the makers, the Giroux Mfg. Co., Buffalo, N. Y., to cure dandruff, stop falling hair and itching scalp in two weeks, or money back.

Good Fuel

Right food is to the body—the source of vital energy.

Grape-Nuts

Is a good food in every sense of the word.

It is made from the natural food grains—wheat and barley; is perfectly cooked; partially pre-digested for easy, quick assimilation; and has fine flavor.

Besides being rich in body-building elements, it contains the phosphate of Potash (grown in the grain) which Nature specially requires for rebuilding the tissue cells in brain and nerves, and which can only be supplied through daily food.

A City of "Model Kitchens"

All over Connelleville women who own Hoosiers are delighted with their kitchens. Praises are endless.

"I wouldn't be without my Hoosier for $100."

"My automatic servant."

"It is simply wonderful. It saves miles of steps for tired feet."

"The only perfect kitchen cabinet I ever saw."

"It saved me at least $15.00 last year in supplies."

"It puts everything in my kitchen at fingers' ends."

Out of 450,000 Hoosiers sold, you couldn't buy a second-hand Hoosier for love or money anywhere in all America.

What You Get With the Hoosier

Without extra cost you get with the Hoosier a sanitary, metal floor bin, capacity 65 pounds; "clock-face" patented wastebasket; roomy cupboard for cereals, dishes, etc.; metal sugar bin, dust-proof; crystal glass air-tight spice jars; glass air-tight tea and coffee jars; huddy utensil hooks; sanitary rolling pin rack; improved metal bread and cake box; metal cake tray; compartment cutlery drawer; linen drawer; large pot and kettle cupboard; pan racks; sliding shelf; convenient cutting board; patented aluminum covered table, 10x30 inches—larger, more convenient than a kitchen table; copper plated adjustable door fasteners; ball-bearing, high-grade pressed steel casters. Finish is golden oak, water and steam-proof.

Size—height, 5 feet 5 inches; width, 3 feet 4 inches; depth of lower section, 2 feet 4 inches.

The Club Plan in Detail

A certain number of Hoosier Cabinets have been sent to each of the 8,000

How a Hoosier Cabinet Saves Miles of Steps

Your table is the center of all your kitchen work. Everything you take to your stove, to your sink, to your dining room, first goes onto your table. Everything you bring from your pantry, refrigerator, cupboard, cellar, goes onto your table.

If you must walk from place to place to collect these things and put them back again, your kitchen is not ideal. It tires you.

Your ideal kitchen saves these steps by combining in the Hoosier Cabinet a pantry and cupboard around a big table covered with pure aluminum.

The Hoosier Cabinet puts everything at your fingers' ends. You can sit down at work. Your table is not cluttered. Spices, sugar, salt, dishes, flour, utensils—everything has its place, you get through quickly.

How Low Fixed Price Protects You

The Hoosier Club Plan differs entirely from the installment plan which often is linked with unknown goods at high prices. The Hoosier Cabinet cost is lowered by great volume of Hoosier sales. To insure you full benefit of this cost saving the low price of the Hoosier Cabinet is fixed at the factory.

You enjoy the liberal credit of the club plan, without paying one penny more than this low fixed price.

Only 50 Women Can Join

Thousands of women all over America buy Hoosier Cabinets every month. With this great club offer the demand doubles. The number of Hoosiers on the Club Plan for each town is limited usually to 25, but we have secured permission to extend the membership to 50. Only one woman in five who wanted Hoosier Cabinets could get one in some towns where this plan was tried first. Those who want a real Hoosier Cabinet should enter their names early.

Get a "Model Kitchen Book" Free

A small supply of the "Model Kitchen Book," famous text-book on kitchens used in Domestic Science Schools, has been received for distribution among women interested in "model kitchens." It contains a complete description of the Hoosier Cabinet, and 35 illustrations including several photographs of model kitchens. To each lady who asks, we shall be glad to give one of these books, while they last, free.

THURSDAY EVENING, APR. 4, 1912.

The Fence Is Down.
West Virginia has been singularly fortunate in the favor of the railroad interests. Its great natural resources, particularly its coal fields, have been rapidly developed by the network of railroads and their extensions which in the brief space of two-score years has covered the State. These industrial arteries reach almost every part of what was at the close of the war largely a wilderness.

Recent developments in the hearing of the Pittsburgh coal rate case furnish strong corroborative proof of the old charge made by the Western Pennsylvania coal and coke interests that the railroad interests had combined to develop the virgin West Virginia fields, in which there was more or less personal interest, and at the same time to discriminate and restrict Western Pennsylvania development.

It was this spirit which undoubtedly hedged the Connellsville region about and which has up to this time kept the Greengarden colliery field fenced in. The readjustment of freight rates has removed the greater portion of this fence, and we may look for greater activity in Western Pennsylvania mining and coke development from this time forward.

The spring of 1912 will go down in the history of the Mississippi Valley as one of devastation and distress, desolation and death. This valley is at present an inland sea which has engulfed thousands of homes and destroyed millions of acres of property. The homeless families are shivering and suffering in the foothills to which they have fled. They need food and clothing. The nation should come to their relief, and it should lose no time in doing so.

The purchase of the old Lutheran church for fire department quarters is threatened by Burgess Evans with the Rev. H.

Butler bonifaces have relented so far as to agree to keep open their dry hotels at least until after the big battle for fair. Perhaps they might extend the time limit further if the business interests of Butler would dig up a national convention or two.

The development of the art of aviation is taking a frightful toll of death. The record to date is 121 killed.

The Madero government has at last scored a victory and checked the triumphant advance of the rebellion. It now remains for President Madero to scotch it, or to follow it, Diaz.

Before Colonel Roosevelt's third term ambition was renewed, he put in his spare time praising President Taft, his own selection for the White House; now he puts in most of his time criticizing and condemning the Taft administration. His inconsistency of our once First Citizen is becoming too painfully apparent.

T. R. has his hammer out, but it doesn't seem to be breaking a very big hole in the Chicago Convention.

Under a new Federal law, Congressional candidates must file with the Clerk of the House a statement of their expenditures at least ten days before the primary. A new statute law was never passed. It permits a shrewd and unscrupulous candidate to reserve all his illegal campaign expenditures until after he files his statement. The money spent in corrupting elections is never spent until the eleventh hour. There are too many dishonest politicians who won't stay bought.

The Appeal to Reason will continue to appeal to prejudice.

The Connellsville coke region wage increase has been extended to the Laclede or Upper Connellsville district. It never stopped going until it got clear around.

Overhead railroad crossings are not a positive guarantee against danger. Overhead trains sometimes leave the track and plunge to destruction as was the case at Fayette station yesterday afternoon.

The South Connellsville Board of Strategy is getting ready to build a municipal water works and lighting plant. South Connellsville will soon begin to realize that unless managed with rigid economy small borough government is relatively large in cost.

What About Your

Suit for Easter

You Will Be Well Dressed
If You Wear a Dunn Suit.

And now is the time to buy it. It is positively a mistake not to buy your coat or suit early. The woman who waits for the reduction sale is always dressed out of season and the difference in price does not make up for the dissatisfaction of being a back number. Furthermore at the last of the season when suits have been reduced all the prettiest styles are gone which we think is another sound reason for buying now. Our stock of coats and suits is now at its best, showing pretty and exclusive styles in whipcords, surges, fancy mixtures, worsteds and novelties, all thoroughly tailored, nicely trimmed, beautifully styled and perfect in fit. The prices of our suits are quite reasonable considering the splendid material and workmanship embodied in them, but this we ask you to come and judge for yourself.

Easter Neckwear

We have put forth quite an effort to have the most complete and attractive showing of neckwear in this vicinity and we think we have succeeded. We want you to come and see the many new ideas in lace and embroidered coat and Dutch Collars, Collar Sets, Stocks, Jabots, Rows, Tailored Collars, Side Frills, Flashes and a big line of novelties in flowers, buds, ribbons, laces, etc. Here at all prices.

Bags and Jewelry

The new things in this line are always an attraction to the spring buyer. We have just opened our lines of fine leather bags, mesh bags and velvet bags. Beads in pearl, jet and color novelties, pendants, fancy combs, beauty pins, bar pins, shoe buckles, cuff links, stick pins, coin purses, hat pins, etc., and know you will be interested in looking them over.

New Hosiery

We are now showing the new spring numbers for women, children and infants in silk, silk lisle and ribbed. A splendid line of children's fine lisle hose in all colors, also children's socks in plain colors or with fancy tops. Just inside the door to the right.

Every woman puts forth special efforts to appear at her best.

If she wears good shoes, properly fitted, they add ten-fold to the effect of a stylish costume.

This season's styles are more charming and graceful than ever before.

Patent leather, gun metal, velvet, suede, tan, white buck and white canvass. We've everything that's new and becoming in shoes, oxfords, pumps and Colonials, for women, misses and children. Reasonable prices.

THE SCOTSDALE ELKS ARRANGE MAY PARTY

Will be Handsome Social Event at Ellsworth Auditorium.

COMMITTEE IS NOW WORKING

Team B of Y. M. C. A. Holding Entertainment on Friday Evening. Madame Barakat Coming to Scottdale Soon—Other Notes of Interest

Special to The Courier.
SCOTSDALE, April 4.—Arrangements are now under way by the Y. M. C. A. for the holding of their annual May reception and dance which stands forth as one of the handsomest yearly social events of this section. The reception this year will be given early in May, the evening not having been fixed upon as yet. This matter will be decided within the next few days. The affair will be given in the Ellsworth Park Auditorium, which will be beautifully decorated in honor of the occasion.

The committee of arrangements comprises: J. H. Parker, W. L. Hill, H. M. Gleibert, T. C. McLean, Arthur G. Newman and John T. Hambray. They are working industriously on the arrangements and other committees will be named later to help along the entertainment.

ROYAL WELSH CHOR.
Another superb musical offering is booked for Scottdale through the auspices of Team B of the Y. M. C. A. Building for a Committee, the Royal Welsh Ladies' Choir, a large musical organization of the highest merit, who will appear at the Geyer Opera House, Friday evening of this week. Although Scottdale has never had so many high class attractions in a season as it has enjoyed this season the past sale now going on at W. J. Durr's show there will be a good sized audience for this entertainment which is given for so worthy an object.

Rev. C. W. Hendrickson, pastor of the First United Brethren Church, has been holding special services each evening at that church in commemoration of Easter Week, and there will be services this evening and tomorrow evening, but none on Sunday. On Sunday morning, the Christian Endeavor Society will hold a sunrise prayer meeting at 6:30 o'clock.

HOLD A MEETING.
The Official Board of the First Methodist Episcopal Church held their regular meeting following the prayer meeting last night.

MADAME BARAKAT.
Madame L. Barakat, the noted lecturer, who has been here in years past, will be at the United Brethren church on Sunday, April 14, at 2:30 when a great missionary rally will be participated in by the church of town.

She will be in Mt. Pleasant on the Monday following, and back to Scottdale on Tuesday evening when she speaks in the Presbyterian church. IN PITTSBURG.

F. V. Fox, the miller, has been in Pittsburgh on a business trip for a couple of days.
INTEREST IS SHOWN.
W. W. Remmick of Hemlock's mill, in Scottdale yesterday said there is a great deal of interest in his neighborhood over the Westmoreland Horticulture Association recently organized in Scottdale, and several from that locality will join.

THE ROADS ARE BAD.
SCOTSDALE, April 4.—People of East Huntingdon township are concerned over the condition of the roads in the locality west of town in consequence of the recent heavy rains, which did a great deal of damage, that was really looked for by those acquainted with the conditions and accompanying every heavy rain. The "famous" hill was piked its entire length last year at a cost of several hundred dollars, and despite the protests of many citizens of that neighborhood the road was filled up entirely. The water table removed, the breakers taken out and the road simply left so that it was a drain. The rain poured down it in a flood and naturally not being able to leave the roadbed washed great gullies out from top to bottom. The big concrete bridge built over the Mauck's Hollow run and where a high wall was also built formed a dam for the water that rushed in the hollow and the wall was badly washed down. The wall being washed away and a good deal of the embankment on the road being gouged out, leaves a couple of places dangerous to travelers, particularly at night, and might easily become the source of heavy damage suits against the township, should these places not be repaired at an early date. A report has been circulated, it seems, that the supervisors are not going to do much work this year. This report on the face of it does not seem reasonable. It is probable that so soon as the weather conditions grow better workmen will be put on the roads. Under the present supervisors it does not look as if the township will go behind any. GROUND WAS BLACK.

"Every Little Olive Tablet Has a Movement All Its Own"

Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver. Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Portsmouth, Ohio, protected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that naturally buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of harmful impurities.

LYMAN D. SLOAN, prominent farmer of near Altoona, while in town yesterday declared that never had he seen the country so black as it is this spring, no green showing at all. He remarked that it has been usual at this time to be able to see much green in the wheat fields and meadows, but now everything seems to be frozen. Much of the clover is frozen clear out of the ground and the roots exposed.

LAUREL PETITION.
A huge petition has been sent in to the offices of the Pennsylvania railroad signed by hundreds of citizens of this locality praying the company to have the yards surrounding the freight station at Scottdale paved. It is recited that while the freight receiving and shipping places the yards through which trains have to go are impassable every spring. The condition of the yards is very bad and the people of this section who are patrons of the Pennsylvania railroad deserve much better accommodations.

APRIL PARTY.
A very pleasing April Fling party was given in honor of Miss Eva Hellen, at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Hellen, of Broadway, Monday evening, at which about a score of guests enjoyed themselves greatly. A feature was an April fool game in which David Gove won the prize. There was a nice lunch served by the young hostess.

PHYSICIANS' MEETING.
The Westmoreland Medical Society held their regular monthly meeting in Greensburg Monday afternoon, and final arrangements were made for the banquet which will be held on April 16. The next meeting will be held May 7, and Dr. J. E. Strickler of Scottdale, in on the program for a paper on "The Treatment of Convulsions in Infants and Children."

AN EARLY SERVICE.
The Christian Endeavor Society of the United Brethren church arranged for a sunrise prayer meeting for Easter Sunday to begin at 6:30 o'clock.

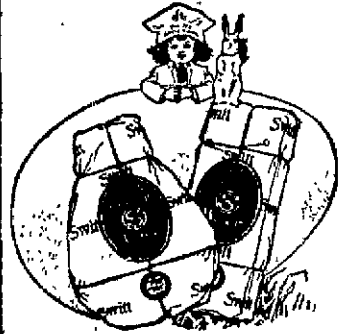

WAS IN PITTSBURG.
M. B. Spandau has returned home from a couple of days spent visiting relatives in Pittsburgh.

AUTOMOBILE HERE.
Attorney C. M. Miller of Greensburg, formerly principal of the Scottdale schools, was in town last evening on local business.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by medicines that act directly on the cause of the deafness. It is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed, you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and the tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever. This causes deafness in many cases, and it is caused by Catarrh of the Eustachian Tube, which is caused by Catarrh of the mucous surfaces.

We will give you $100.00 for any case of deafness cured by our medicine. Send for our medicine, free. F. J. CROSBY, 100 N. Tenth St., St. Louis, Mo. Sold by Druggists. Take Little's Family Pills for constipation.

PRITSTOWN, April 4.—Misses Sarah and Marie Ridenour spent several days last week visiting their sister, Mrs. Albert Reese of Greensburg.

About 40 pupils of the surrounding schools took the township teachers' examination at Rice's school house Saturday and only eight of the aggregate passed the examination.

Mrs. John Bower of Wooddale, and sister, Mrs. Frank Robbins of Virginia, visited the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Atkinson on Thursday.

Mrs. A. J. Phillips, Mrs. John Paul and Mrs. Jesse Knight and children attended the baptism service at the Christian church at Scottdale on Sunday afternoon.

J. C. Milligan who was injured in the "Painful" mines some time ago, is now able to be out.

Mrs. Jesse Knight spent Sunday at Morgan with her friend, Mrs. Frank Washburn, a former resident of Pittstown.

Mrs. Grant Keefe of near here, is confined to her home with an abscess in her throat.

This will all go, and, besides, there will be no sour food left over in the stomach to poison your breath with nauseous odors.

Pape's Dispepsia is a certain cure for out-of-order stomachs, because it takes hold of your food and digests it just the same as if your stomach wasn't there.

Relief in five minutes. From all stomach misery is waiting for you at any drug store.

Meyersdale.

MEYERSDALE, April 4.—At the meeting of the Borough Council Tuesday night all members were present. There was considerable routine business, at the conclusion of which the electric light franchise question, which has been hanging fire for several months, was again taken up, and when the meeting was adjourned on Wednesday morning at 1:15 o'clock no franchise had been granted and the matter, without their application for from the board as when they started some months ago. The Glade Valley Manufacturing & Power Company, through W. W. Staub and J. S. Dryer, with drew their application for at franchise and recommended that it be given to H. C. Wilmoth, President of the Meyersdale Electric Light, Heat & Power Company, the local corporation that is at present furnishing the light.

This left but two applicants in the field—J. W. Wilmoth, Treasurer of the same, representing a large eastern corporation, and the Meyersdale Electric Light, Heat & Power Company. The latter company and the borough does, it seems, are unable to get together on several vital points. Mr. Wilmoth will not consider a term of franchise for less than 20 years, and the sentiment of Council favors a term not exceeding ten years. The local concern will pay for the franchise a sum not exceeding $200 a year, while the other applicant agrees to pay for the use of the franchise annually 15 per cent of the power, amounting to $200, or its equivalent in cash.

Council is holding out for a 75-cent minimum meter rate against Mr. Wilmoth's demand for a minimum rate of $1.00 per month. Mr. Wilmoth and his attorney Charles F. Uhl, Jr., were present at the session, but left upon Council voting down the proposition of a 20-year term franchise by a vote of four to three. Later Mr. Wilmoth and his attorney, J. A. Berkey, stated their case to Council, but owing to the lateness of the hour and the inability of Borough Solicitor Trustad to be present, further action on the franchise question was deferred until an adjourned meeting to be held on Tuesday evening, April 23rd.

The First Inventions

were made to serve Necessity—to enable folks to keep alive—weapons, for example, and the canoe of hollowed log.

After awhile life became easily safe, and then appeared the problem of making it enjoyable—worth while.

Variations on the primitive pleasure of food and drink soon suggested themselves to the fertile human mind, and one of the results was BEER. They made it so long ago that nobody knows how long. It pleased mankind—then and now—for reasons:

It is both food and drink. The life essence of the vital barley is presented as a delicious beverage—almost immediately assimilative. It gives an immediate pleasure and a permanent benefit.

It is our purpose to make the best beer in the world.

The GLOW of the RUBIES

By FRANCIS PERRY ELLIOTT

Illustrations by RAY WALTERS

(Copyright, 1911, by John M. Starnes Company)

"By Jove!" I remarked, just as I stirred him up a bit. And he unloaded a great funnel of smoke and continued: "My theory in that during some danger, some mandarin was, likely, somebody got cold about those jewels and roped them in with those bits of silk—see how different they are from the rest of the stuff? Then, when the roughhouse came, those pajamas were swept along in the sucking—sort of spoils of pillage, you know. It was a clever method of concealment—clever because simple—a hiding place unlikely to be thought of because right under the eye. You recall Poe's story of 'The Purloined Letter'?"

I asked Billings how much he thought one of the rubies was worth. I had in mind how devilish hungrily he had looked at them. But he sighed, then frowned and answered impatiently:

"That's it! That's the trouble about all the rare and beautiful things of this life! Always some debasing, prohibitive sordid money value, dammit!"

He squinted at the stones again and let the weight of one rest upon his finger. He shook his head, sighing:

"Well, they're over twenty carats each, and therefore, of course, many times the value of first water diamonds. After you get above five carats with real Oriental rubies, diamonds are not in it."

With an abrupt gesture he pushed the things away and rose. His pipe had gone out, but I noticed that he did not relight it. I held the gems full in the rays of the lamp, and Billings paused, holding a hungry gaze over his shoulder.

"I say, Billings, how much did you say one was worth?" I asked carelessly. For a moment he did not reply, but muttered to himself:

"I didn't say," he finally replied, and rather crossly. Then he winked at me impulsively. "See here, Lighter," he exclaimed, "if you'll let me have one of those for my collection, I'll give you twenty-five thousand for it—there!"

He gulped and continued: "I'll have to make some sacrifices, but I don't mind that. I—"

But I shook my head. Really, I could hardly keep from laughing in his face.

"Sorry! Can't see it, old chap," I said. "Wouldn't sell one of them at any price."

Billings gulped again. "I suppose not; don't blame you. Way you're fixed, you don't have to." He walked slowly to the window and back. "Take my advice, Dicky, and get those first-class jewels into your safe deposit vault first thing in the morning. Hello, you're counting them off! 'That's wise!'"

For with the knife he had laid on the table I was cutting away the tough threads that held the rubies. I cut off the second and fourth, leaving the first ruby at the collar, and the other two alternates.

"Go on," said Billings, all laid down the knife. "You've only removed two."

"Don't believe I'll cut off any more," I said. "Want you to help me tie up the others just as they are."

"What?"

I insisted. And though Billings protested and argued and even called me names, we did as I said.

For, by Jove, you know it was perfectly clear that if they had been safe so long under the little covers, the jewels couldn't find any better place. Singular thing Billings couldn't see it. Besides, the pajamas had to have fastenings, you know.

I held one of the two rubies under the light, and, by Jove, I almost dropped it—did drop my glass. Seeing a red-hot poker-point in your fingers would give you the same turn.

"Rippers, Billings! Simply rippers!" I exclaimed.

I held the other ruby beside its fellow. Then I waited, listening, and I heard Billings' hand strike down on the back of a chair.

"I guess I'll be going, old chap," he said gruffly. "Think I'd better, after all." He cleared his throat. "Sure you can't sell me one, Dicky?" Dashed it his voice didn't tremble.

"Quite sure, dear boy," I murmured, without turning around. "Not mine, you know—these two."

Billings exploded then. It seemed an opportunity to relieve himself. "Not yours! Why, you dog-eared idiot, you uncompoop, you cuckoo, you chicken head! What notion have you got in that fool's noodle now? If those rubies are not yours, whose do you think they are?"

I whirled about quickly. "Yours," I said, and laid them in his hand.

"My compliments, old chap," I added, smiling. By Jove! One time, at least, I put it all over old Billings!

"No!" he gasped, crouching over and gripping my shoulder.

I grinned cheerfully. He fell into a chair and just sat there mauling at me and then at the jewels in his hand. Old boy looked devilish silly. Really acted like he had some sort of stroke—that sort of thing.

I laughed at him. "Don't you see?" I said, trying to explain. "Wouldn't have known a dashed thing about the buttons holding rubies but for you. So lucky they came to me so I can get a chance to help out your collection. Awfully glad, old chap."

He clenched the jewels, and looked down.

"Better than a little humbly me," he paused. "Dicky!" His voice was so low I could hardly hear him. "Dicky, you're off your trolley, and I'm a damned—"

He raised his arm and dropped it. "Well, never mind what," he finished with a lift of the shoulders. "But I want to say something. It's about what I offered you for those stones. The price—the amount I named—wasn't even a decent gamble; but it was all I could go, and oh, I wanted one so badly, Dicky! And now you've made me feel like a dog. And I can't take your gift, old chap any more than I could afford to offer you the real value of one of these beautiful stones. Here! And he passed them back to me.

To Be Continued.

MANAGER SMITH OF NEW CASTLE VISITS NEAR HERE

New Pilot of Nicks in Town and Expresses Himself Pleased With Outlook.

Manager Smith, who was recently signed by Owner Leist of the New Castle team was in Connelville this morning for a short time. While here he was the guest of Manager W. C. Wilson. He left this afternoon for Mt. Pleasant where he will visit relatives before taking up his duties at New Castle. Last year Smith managed the De Kalb, Ill. team, one of the fastest independent teams in the middle west.

Manager Smith is well pleased with the state of affairs in New Castle. About six players have been signed up and six more to be selected from about 30 applicants.

A dispatch from Sharon states that Catcher Lawrence Bucklow who reached Connelville from Charleston, W. Va., and the New Castle O. & F. League club has returned there unassigned and will try to make the Sharon team. Bucklow is a Sharon boy.

Trenton will get the first post season game for the championship of the Eastern league between Trenton and Jasper. A loss of the coin put the first game next Saturday night at Trenton. Jasper will stage the second contest on Thursday, April 11. The games will be played under the Eastern league rules and will be under the control of the organization.

New Castle will fall in line for selling season tickets. Manager Leist has just announced that he will place the tickets on sale in a few days.

Good Friday Services
At the German Lutheran St. John's church on Carnegie avenue and East South street, Geo. Dietz, pastor. Good Friday services and holy communion will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Subject for sermon, taken from I Corinthians 1, 20129: "Hath Not God Made Foolish the Wisdom of This World?" For the Jews require a sign, and the Greeks seek after wisdom. But we preach Christ crucified, unto the Jews a stumbling block, and unto the Greeks foolishness, but unto them which are called both Jews and Greeks, Christ, the power and the wisdom of God. Because the foolishness of God is wiser than men, and the weakness of God is stronger than men. All are cordially invited.

DISTINCTIVE Union Supply Co. Stocks

The Union Supply Company stores have the unique distinction of showing unmatchable stocks. We want to call attention particularly to our lines of women's and misses' suits, shirt waists, skirts, and millinery. In the line of suits which have been made by skilled tailors are many examples of all tastes, to meet the requirements of everybody. We can say the same of our shirt waists and skirts. The millinery we would like you to see for you sell. It is hard to describe the attractive styles. It is hard to impress you with the distinction. We say, without any fear of challenge in the lines mentioned, women's and misses' tailor made suits, shirt waists, skirts and millinery, they are unmatchable.

Distinctive Styles In Housefurnishings

It is by a store's regular stocks that it is a year-round efficiency is best judged. While the Union Supply Company housefurnishing departments have made some very remarkable special offerings during the last six months it is the present regular stocks of the products that we are proud of. It is housefurnishing time and we want you to come and see our new lines of all grades of furniture for every room in the house. We particularly want you to see our fine collection of high carved oak and mahogany lace curtains, portieres, etc. We particularly want you to see our line of iron, wooden and brass bedsteads and springs. We want you to see the good mattresses bed clothing etc. We can show you these goods in great varieties as manufactured especially for us come direct from the factories. We can sell much cheaper than the installment houses. This is surely a great bargain apartment.
